DEDICATION

Mrs. C. H. Reitzel

We, the senior class of 1953, wish to dedicate "HI-LIGHTS" to our sponsor and teacher, Mrs. C. H. Reitzel. When we were in need of advice concerning school work or personal problems, she was always ready to lend a helping hand. She has helped us overcome many difficulties, has invested hours of work and sacrifice for the students of Blackburn, and has helped us in attaining the rank of graduates.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

History of the Class of 1953

With great pride I shall narrate the history of the class of ninteen hundred and fifty three.

In the beginning eighteen eager to learn youngsters entered the door of higher learning. They were at first wary, but the kind voices of the teachers lured them on.

In this first year this class with much enthusiasm entered the field of athletics, making the team all the more forceful.

Their second year proved more successful, for they had been introduced to such formidable subjects as math, history, English, and biology. School now had more appeal to them.

As sophomores they presented a comedy entitled "Junior's Moustache." At the conclusion of this year they were raised to the rank of Juniors. For this promotion they were most grateful.

As Juniors they helped the seniors present a wonderful play, "Brother Goose." At the graduation exercises they presented the Seniors with the traditional daisy chain. Graduation exercises over, the combined grades made a pleasant trip to another state, Florida.

Entering the classroom as seniors they received an emblem for their efforts - a class ring. This year brought around the joyful task of selecting an annual staff, announcements, and caps and gowns.

As another class has reached its goal, graduation, I close this history with these thoughts:

"Learn to laugh;
It is better than medicine.
Learn to attend to your own business;
Few men can handle their own.
Learn to say kind words;
Nobody ever resents them.
Learn to stop grumbling;
If you can't see any good in the world
keep the bad to yourself.
Learn to keep your troubles to yourself;
Nobody wants them."

Carolyn Cook
Historian

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1952-53, being about to pass out of the field of secondary learning, in full possession of a crammed mind, well trained memory, and almost superhuman understanding, do make and publish this, our last will and testament:

We, the Senior Class of 1952-53, will to the teachers our gratitude for helping us through the years.

I, Carolyn Cook, will to Mary Jane Mitchem my ability to laugh the whole day through. Don't take life so seriously.

I, Jay Wilfong, leave my privilege of going to the store each day to Weston Finger and Colon Rhyne. Don't stay more than one period.

I, Faye Smith, will my friendliness to Mary Lou Thomas.

I, Larry Buff, will my school bus to Farrell Childers. Please be careful with it, Farrell.

I, Rachel Elliott, will my privilege to speak my mind to Hazel Le Fevers and Betty Jo Hendricks; so that the Senior Class will have someone to express their opinions.

I, Kenneth Rudisill, will my shyness to Howard Weaver and Danny Whisnant.

I, Shirley Jarrett, will my love of soldiers to my sister, Sybil Scronce.

I, Helen Hoyle, will my seat in the senior room to Billie Faye Hilton who must keep it free from candy wrappers, chewing gum, and other odds and ends.

I, Edith Leatherman, will to Shirley Leatherman my sweet disposition. It will be attractive not only to the classroom but also to the opposite sex.

Duly signed and declared by the class of 1953 to be its last will and testament.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Alfred Lord Tennyson in "Locksley Hall" says: "..... I dipt into the future far as the human eye could see; saw the vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be. ---"

I, Faye Smith, have also dipped into the future, but not so willingly. This task was thrust upon me, and as class prophet it will be my duty to reveal not only the sunny days but also the dark ones.

Edith Leatherman, now a teacher has truly become a lamp unto the feet and a light unto the path of the little ones.

Larry Buff followed in his father's footsteps, becoming a professor at Columbia University.

Kenneth Rudisill, who drifted westward, possesses extensive ranch holdings. He also has a large family that has helped him become a very successful farmer.

Helen Hoyle, head nurse at Catawba General Hospital, opens her heart to all her patients and is loved by all.

Farther on I drift and whom do I see but Carolyn Cook, beautician at Shelby Beauty School.

Shirley Scronce is married and living happily with her family of six.

Rachel Yoder, the girl we selected to be the first one married, was unlucky in love. She found she could thrive better by herself on her sixty-acre farm.

Jay Wilfong once professional boat racer and holder of many titles, has retired from racing to return to the Wilfong Poultry Farm.

The last scene of all, which ends this strange eventful prophecy concerns the class prophet, revealer of the classmates' woes.

Faye Smith has likewise forsaken her childhood home to engage in the establishment of her own castle of dreams.

Like the good Saint Paul, "We know in part, and we prophesy in part"; therefore, not being allowed to see more, I follow my grandfather's rule -- "Don't ever prophesy unless you know."
